

Format of Formal letter

- The heading consisting of – writer's address and date
- Courteous greeting or salutation
- The message – the body or the letter
- The subscription or conclusion
- The signature
- The superscription on the envelope

Business letter format (widely used)

(logo)

FORTUNE DEVELOPERS (heading)

REAL ESTATE DEALERS

113 B, Sudarshan Nagar

CUTTACK 753009

Tel : 91- 0671-2304080

e-mail : fortuneds@gmail.com

Partho Biswal

Managing Partner

-

22 May 2007 (date)

Mr Vijay Tripathy (inside address)

35 Acharya Vihar

Bhubaneswar 751007

Dear Mr Tripathy (salutation)

You will be happy to know that we are developing a new residential complex, to be known as Palm Heights, in Shahpur, Bhubaneswar, opposite SUM Hospital.

The complex will have five 7-storeyed apartment blocks, with four 2-bedroom apartments and two 3-bedroom apartments on each floor. There will be a shopping mall, a swimming pool, tennis courts, a club-house and a restaurant within the complex. Apartments have been priced at Rs.2200 per square foot.

An illustrated brochure showing the lay-out of the proposed complex is enclosed for your information.

As you know, Bhubaneswar is expanding rapidly and has already attracted several major IT companies such as Infosys, Satyam and Wipro. Property prices in Bhubaneswar are fast escalating and we are advising all our esteemed clients to invest in real estate at this time. We are confident that you will find Palm Heights an attractive proposition.

We have great pleasure in inviting you to a cocktail party which we are organizing for our clients at the Bhubaneswar Club on Wednesday 25 May 2008. Our Chief Architect, Mr Brijesh Lal, will make a presentation at this gathering, highlighting the special features of Palm Heights.

We do hope you will be able to come.

Sincerely (complimentary close)

(Signature) (signature)

Partho Biswal

Managing Partner

Enclosure: Palm Heights Brochure (enclosure notation)